

CALL FOR PAPERS

Post COVID-19

Lessons learned from the pandemic and its aftermath

OCTOBER 2023

Fahad Aziz, MD, FASN, Editor-in-Chief, WMJ

The Wisconsin Medical Journal (WMJ) is seeking papers that examine the lessons learned from the COVID-19 pandemic and its aftermath, as well as other recent infectious disease outbreaks (e.g., monkeypox). These papers will be published in a special theme issue. Potential topics include the following:

- The effect of the COVID-19 pandemic on medical professionals
- How the pandemic may have changed clinicians' feelings about medicine as a career
- The psychological and financial impact of the pandemic on patients
- The impact of the COVID-19 on health outcomes for other clinical conditions
- The long-term effects of the pandemic on medical education
- Long-term changes to health care delivery as a result of the pandemic
- Were we ready for the pandemic? What steps we should take to prepare for another pandemic
- How effective were efforts to fight the pandemic

Authors should refer to the Instructions for Authors for manuscript guidelines (<https://wmjonline.org/for-authors/instructions-for-authors/>). We will consider peer-reviewed submissions (ie, original research, review articles, case reports, and brief reports), as well as editorial-reviewed submissions (ie, commentaries, "As I See It," letters, and editorials).
